COLLISION NEAR TACOMA.

Narrow Escape of a Small Passenger Steamer.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 21.—In a dense fog off Brown's point, five miles out of Tacoma, the swift passenger steamer Flyer, which plies between Seattle and Tacoma, and the freight and passenger steamer Utopia, came into collision yesterday. The Utopia was running slowly at the time, and this alone prevented the sinking of the Flyer with all on board, about fifty persons, including the crew. The Flyer was in the act of crossing the bow of a steamship which was en route to Tacoma when the Utopia struck her with terrific force on the starboard side, leaving a hole amidships just above the water line. Consternation reigned aboard both vessels for some time. The Utopia went to the Flyer's assistance and in a short time the passengers and crew were transferred to that vessel. No one was killed or severely injured. When Tacoma was reached the Flyer had four or five feet of water in her hold.

DRUNKEN SOLDIERS.

Twenty-five Chicago Policemen Arrest Them.

CHICAGO, August 21.—Twenty-five policemen were sent to the Union depot last night at the call of the Fort Wayne railroad, to meet the incoming train bearing a carload of drunken and riotous privates of the United States army. The conductor of the train had telegraphed ahead for assistance. Twenty-eight privates, without a commissioned officer, were on their way from the Columbus barracks to various forts in the West. While passing through Indiana yesterday a fight was started in which four men were cut more or less seriously and a number of the car windows broken. All the soldiers were drunk except three or four. As the railroad was willing to let them go the police officials decided to let the army officials take action in the matter.

RETURNING FROM DAKOTA.

A Connecticut Man Couldn't Make it Pay in the West.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., August 21.—A large tent, rigged upon a wagon after the style of a prairie schooner, with a pair of horses attached, attracted a large crowd of people on the streets this morning. Inside the tent, which contained considerable household furniture, were John Stevens and his two sons, who have traveled all the way from Dakota. They have been en route several months and with very little money have been obliged to get their meals the best way they could. Stevens said today that he went to Dakota two years ago, and not being prosperous there had decided to return to his old home in Connecticut. On one side of the wagon was the inscription in large yellow letters: "In God We Trusted; In Dakota We Busted."

A Lake Steamer's Boiler Explodes.

JACKSON, Mich., August 21.—The boiler of steamer Manitou, at Clark's lake, exploded yesterday while carrying over one hundred passengers. Engineer Hinckley and two others were badly scalded. A number of the passengers jumped into the lake, but all were rescued.

North Carolina Prohibitionists.

RALEIGH, N. C., August 21.—The state Prohibitory convention at Salisbury yesterday nominated a state ticket headed by James R. Jones for governor. State electors were also nominated.

WAITING FOR HANNA.

Activity About Republican Headquarters in New York.

NEW YORK, August 21.—There was an air of activity around Republican national headquarters this morning. A great crowd of people waited in the corridors of headquarters for an audience with Chairman Hanna. Mr. Hanna came to headquarters from the Waldorf at 10:30 o'clock and immediately proproceeded to his office. Among those who saw Mr. Hanna were John E. Milholland and Frederick Gibbs.

General Osborne, secretary of the executive committee, received a telegram today from Senator Quay announcing that he would start north within a few days. He will come probably to the New York headquarters on his arrival in this city, which will certainly not be later than September 1.

Speakers were appointed for the Maine campaign, including John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, Hon. Charles Emory Smith, and Curtis Guild of Boston.

MR. BRYAN SMILED.

Gratified at the Report of Croker's Support.

UPPER RED HOOK, N. Y., August 21.—William J. Bryan this morning read the published stories of Democratic harmony with the Chicago convention nominees and smiled. He spent most of the morning working on his letter of acceptance. He said that he had assurances from all parts of the state of generous support. Mr. Bryan was shown a morning paper which reported Mr. Croker's endorsement of the Chicago ticket. He said he was gratified to find so many eastern Democrats falling into line, and added that before the campaign closed he expected the cooperation of all Democrats, except those whose pecuniary interests may be better advanced by the gold standard. It is said that Dr. Jenkins of New York gave Mr. Bryan an intimation that Mr. Croker would be with him.

FUSION IN CALIFORNIA.

Five Electors for the Democrats and Four for the Populists.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 21.—After three hours and a half of deliberation between the conference committee of the People's party, the Democratic party and the Silver League yesterday, it was decided to fuse on Presidential electors, the Democrats to have five for Bryan and Sewall, and the Populists to have four for Bryan and Watson. John S. Gore, one of the most influential Populists in this state, refused to agree to the fusion. He felt that he could not conscientiously, as a Populist, take a hand in any proceeding that would give Sewall five ninths of the Populist vote of California.

Rumored Resignation of Minister Terrell.

FORT WORTH, Texas, August 21.—A report has gained currency here that A. W. Terrell, United States Minister to Turkey, had either resigned or would tender his resignation as minister to the State Department soon. Captain J. Terrell, the minister's brother, yesterday said that he did not place credence in the rumored resignation. If his brother had resigned or intended to resign he had not been apprised of the fact.

Death of a Prominent Canadian.

QUEBEC, August 21.—A despatch from Rimouska announces that Sir David MacPherson of Toronto, member of the Dominion senate and one of the best known men in Canada, died last Sunday on board steamer Labrador, which passed Rimouska this morning bound inward from Liverpool. Sir David was on his way home from a trip to Europe which had been taken for the benefit of his health.

Resigned His Position as Editor of The Manufacturer.

PHILADELPHIA, August 21.—Charles Heber Clark, editor of The Manufacturer, has resigned that position. The Manufacturer is published by the Manufacturers' Club of this city. Mr. Clark is a free silver man and has reflected his views in his paper. As these views are not in accord with the opinion of the majority of the members of the Manufacturers' Club, Mr. Clark resigned the editorship.

Will Reduce Oil Workers' Wages.

TOLEDO, Ohio, August 21.—A special from North Baltimore, Ohio, says that it is the intention of the Ohio Oil Company, the Ohio branch of the Standard, to reduce the wages of pumpers in all the Buckeye fields from $55 to $50 per month. About five thousand men will be affected and they are organizing to oppose the contemplated reduction.

Appointments by Chairman Jones.

CHICAGO, August 21.—Chairman Jones yesterday appointed Clark Howell of Georgia chief of the literary bureau, which will be opened by the committee next week, and named F. U. Adams of Chicago to be Mr. Howell's assistant. Senator Jones's other appointment Dan McConville of Ohio to be chairman of the speaker's bureau. Mr. McConville is chairman of the Ohio Democratic campaign committee.

Arizona Populists Nominate for Congress.

PHOENIX, Arizona, August 21.—The territorial Populist convention has nominated W. O'Neil for delegate to Congress and adjourned after making preparations for a vigorous campaign. The platform endorses the national nominations, favors free silver and declares for statehood for Arizona.

Li Hung Chang's Baggage.

LONDON, August 21.—Upwards of three hundred packages, some of them of enormous size, comprising the baggage and effects of Li Hung Chang, the Chinese special ambassador, have already gone to Southampton for shipment on board the American line steamer St. Louis for New York tomorrow.

The Fram's Experience in the North.

CHRISTIANIA, August 21.—The Christiania Norgenbladet makes the statement that upon one occasion after Dr. Nansen left the Fram in the ice in March 1895, the crew of the vessel loaded sledges with provisions and prepared to leave the ship. The Fram, according to the paper, still has on board three years' provisions and 850 tons of coal. Upon the occasion of the Fram's calling at Dane's island, Spitzbergen, on August 14, M. Andree, the Swedish explorer, told Captain Sverdrup that the season was too far advanced to justify a baloon ascension and that it was his intention to leave Spitzbergen on August 20. The Fram arrived at Tromsoe last evening.

This Morning's News.

BRYAN IN NEW YORK.

Will Get the Support of the Democratic Machine.

BARRYTOWN, N. Y., August 21.—William Jennings Bryan thought out a little of his letter of acceptance yesterday, but he thought more about his deal with the New York state machine. Only sixty visitors were admitted to the Perrine home. The candidate has completed the itinerary of his trip back to Lincoln with great care, so that wherever there is a chance to make a speech he will not lose it. He also wrote letters and telegrams to New York Democrats who favor his indorsement by the state convention in September.

Elliot Danforth reached the village late Wednesday night, and held a long conference with Mr. Bryan. Thursday morning he went on his way to Albany. Mr. Danforth was the medium through which Senator Hill was given the assurance that, in case of Bryan's election, the regular organization would control the patronage. It is said that Mr. Bryan now feels assured of Senator Hill's support.

Young Mr. Hinkley of Poughkeepsie came over Thursday morning with an invitation from his father, Chairman Hinkley, for Mr. Bryan to spend the night at Winnisook Lodge, in the Catskills. Winnisook Lodge is a favorite resort of Democratic politicians, and a night there will be an excellent way of reaching an understanding. Though Mr. Hinkley's paper has not yet put the names of Bryan and Sewall at the head of its columns, the intimation is that this will be done soon. Mr. Bryan accepted the invitation to visit Winnisook Lodge with alacrity, though he has declined invitations to visit several other places in the Catskills.

Buffalo will be the centre of Mr. Bryan's operations for several days. He will forage on the community around for several days, making speeches. All this speech-making in New York seems to be the result of an understanding with the Democratic machine. It is part of the program leading up to Bryan's indorsement by the state convention. The candidate himself hopes by it to regain the prestige he lost in New York city. It can be put down as a certainty that Mr. Bryan will make a campaign speech in New York city, probably under the management of Tammany, in the early part of October.

Mr. Bryan has decided to make another excursion into McKinley's county. On his way back to Lincoln he will speak at Cleveland, Columbus and other towns along the route where people can be got together to hear him. He lets Michigan go for the present, but will deliver an address at South Bend, Ind. He will spend a day at Des Moines, and another with members of the national committee in Chicago, and will reach Lincoln September 6. The national committee, by the way, is permitted to file applications for Mr. Bryan to speak, but he makes his plans with little regard to them.

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

Manager Hanna Lays out the Work for the Republicans.

NEW YORK, August 21.—Mr. Hanna's words and actions since he reached here show that Chicago will be the real Republican headquarters during the rest of the campaign, and that he and the other Republican managers are quite awake to the fact that their battle must be fought in the Mississippi valley. The headquarters here will of course be actively maintained, but at bottom they will be a branch. The important work of the campaign, except the raising of money, will be done at Chicago. The course of events in the Northeast for a month past, and especially the circumstances attending Mr. Bryan's visit, have reassured Mr. Hanna as to the strength and progress of silver sentiment there. He believes now that the Northeast is practically safe for McKinley, and that the conduct of the campaign there can be prudently left in a large measure to the state organizations.

Conditions in the Mississippi valley are by no means so reassuring. No man can now predict with any certainty how many of these states will vote in November. Hard work is necessary on both sides, and both, as the campaign grows warm, will concentrate their activity and resources there.

Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kentucky and Nebraska are the doubtful states which Mr. Hanna believes he can win by ceaseless campaigning to McKinley. In them, in particular, he proposes to make the thoroughest possible canvass, county by county, town by town, village by village, until the managers can ascertain approximately the intention of all the voters, especially of those who pass for Republicans. This canvass is to be made through petty Republican committees, local clubs and paid agents.

Republicans and sound-money Democrats are already pouring into these states, and the number of them will be increased as the canvass shows their need. Speakers will be sent everywhere, especially to address small neighborhood meetings, where there can be more or less give-or-take argument. At present the number of speakers available for such purposes is insufficient, but the Republican managers have made provisions for the training of men who can talk as efficiently against silver as they used to do against low tariffs. In every possible way missionary work is to be done in these central states. Probably no more thorough elaborate minutely organized and costly plan of campaign could be devised, and Mr. Hanna seems to have both the executive capacity and the money and men to pursue it.

CRUISER BROOKLYN.

Examined by Naval Board and Found to be Satisfactory.

PHILADELPHIA, August 21.—The new United States cruiser Brooklyn was minutely inspected by the naval examining board, headed by Commodore Dewey, at Cramps' ship yard yesterday. The board found everything to be up to the requirements.

The Brooklyn will start for her trial trip on Saturday morning. She will proceed to Delaware Breakwater and from there will steam to the Massachusetts coast. On Wednesday she will begin her trial of speed and seaworthiness over the official course.

In anticipation of the trial, the Navy Department has issued orders to the board of inspectors and officers to act as assistants, directing them to assemble in Boston. The board of inspectors will go to Boston by rail.

INCREASE OF POPULATION IN EUROPEAN CITIES.

It will take Greater New York a long time to become the largest city of the world, even if we ignore Chicago's hopes of passing her in population. Within the area to be embraced in Greater New York there are now about 3,000,000 people, besides 500,000 more just across the river. Greater London has a population of more than 6,000,000. By the census taken in a night, as the slow English take a census, the city in the "administrative county of London" has 4,441,271 population, a gain of 170,810 people in five years. Greater London, however, has a population of 6,167,692, and has gained 534,360 in five years, a larger actual gain, though a smaller percentage of gain, than that of Greater New York. Thus a city which five years ago was as large as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore and New Orleans combined, added in half a decade a population little less than that of San Francisco and Cincinnati combined in 1890.

Among the world's great cities Paris will be third in 1900, but will not long hold her place. At the present rate of growth she will be passed by Chicago and Berlin, Tokio and Vienna, before the first decade of the next century closes.

Wonderful as has been the growth of American cities, they have generally not increased more rapidly than the cities of Europe of equal size. Amsterdam, Buda Pesth, Warsaw, Rome and Marseilles have kept pace with cities of equal size in this country, as St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore, and many cities in South America and Australia that were smaller than these cities in 1880 were larger in 1890. Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Ayres, Melbourne and Sydney have grown much more rapidly than cities of equal size in the United States in 1890, except New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Brooklyn, while in 1880 seven cities in this country were larger than Rio de Janeiro and ten larger than Buenos Ayres. The former has passed St. Louis, Boston and Baltimore, while the latter, in addition to these, has passed Cincinnati, San Francisco and New Orleans. In 1880 Melbourne was smaller than either St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore or Cincinnati. Now it is larger than either. During the same time Sydney has passed Cincinnati and San Francisco in population.

All over the world the drift of population is to the cities. This drift is very perceptible in this country, but it is much more marked in some other countries.—[Florida Times-Union.

A RARE METAL.

Vanadium is a very rare metal, forming an essential constituent of only a few scarce minerals, although traces of it are widely distributed, and it exists in the sun. A mine of anthracite, situated at a height of 10,000 feet in the Andes, has recently become an important source of its compounds. The coal is easily worked, burns readily, and leaves about two per cent of ash, of which from one-seventh to one-fourth is vanadium, while there are traces of silver, zirconium and platinum. M. E. Helous has succeeded in extracting the vanadium on a large scale. He makes use of it in the preparation of aniline black, in the coloring of porcelain, and in metallurgy; and this was the source of the vanadium from which M. Moissan prepared vanadium carbide in the electric furnace.

HINTS ON SWIMMING.

The beginner should not try to swim any long distance at first. As soon as he finds that he can keep his body floating easily on the water by means of the strokes he has learned, he should aim to perfect his form rather than aim to cover long distances. The stroke which has just been described is technically called the forward breast stroke, and although there are a great many other kinds of strokes in swimming, this is the easiest of all strokes to learn, and the one that is most generally used, except, perhaps for racing.

One of the most common of the fancy strokes is the overhand stroke. This is performed by placing the body on the right side, with the legs held out behind perfectly straight. One leg is then brought up in front and the other is lifted up behind, and the next motion is to bring them together with a swift scissorslike motion, exerting as much force as possible. In the mean time the right hand is moved out in front and brought down through the water as far as the left thigh, when the left hand passes over the water from the rear forward, and is drawn back similarly through the water, thus pulling the body ahead, just as one might pull one's self along by means of a rope.—[Harper's Round Table.

GET WELL AND STAY WELL.

GET RID OF WHAT MAKES YOU SICK AND STAY RID OF IT.

It is so simple to be well that we wonder why there are so many sick people.

Come to think about it, must be because they don't know what's made them sick.

If they knew that, they could prevent it, and when they were sick, in some cases cure themselves. But, so long as we don't take more care of our health, we shall always be more or less sick.

The simple rules of health are: Keep clean, take exercise, eat good food, scour out your stomach.

This last means: Don't tolerate indigestion. Cure it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. A stomach full of undigested, fermented, putrid food is the unhealthiest thing you can think of.

Half our diseases and troubles come from the poisons of undigested food. More than half of them could be cured with Shaker Digestive Cordial.

More than half, because often when we think we are sick we are only weak, and a course of nourishing food digested without effort by the stomach (with the aid of Shaker Digestive Cordial) would reinvigorate the whole system and make us well.

A ten cent trial bottle will prove it. At druggists.

WON IN THE NINTH.

Newport Beats Pawtucket in a Lively Finish.

Certainly those who went to Freebody Park yesterday afternoon to see the first game with the Pawtuckets had their money's worth of base ball, or else they wanted a great deal for their money; but so far as the Newports were concerned they had to wait till the last part of the game to get it. In the first three innings the home team allowed their opponents to take a lead that looked too formidable to overcome. This was not so much on bad play as on a sort of careless, loose style of work which had precisely as bad a result. Then for three more innings the play of both sides was sharp and even, only a single run coming in on either side.

With the opening of the seventh a change seemed to come o'er the spirit of the Newports' dreams; or, more literally speaking, perhaps, they suddenly awoke from their trance, and proceeded to bat out a handsome victory. They fell upon Manager Smith, who up to this time had been pretty effective, though batted fairly well, and made him feel relieved, doubtless, when in the ninth an accident allowed him to seek refuge in his home territory, the right field, whence he viewed from afar the end of the slaughter. In the seventh four singles and a sacrifice netted three runs, and made the score look even enough almost to satisfy the local cranks to have the game stop there. But the eighth developed five more single hits, and the score was tied; there should have been one more run but for slack base running. By this time the crowd was wild, as the Newports were now fielding brilliantly and steadily, and victory seemed hovering in the air.

The first Newport man up in the ninth drove a liner at Smith which struck him in the ankle and bounded to the first base line, the runner being safe. Smith went to right, to nurse his hurt ankle and his wounded feelings, and Leach was sent in. He is the Pawtuckets' new pitcher, who has been doing phenomenal work since he joined the team. His record during one inning yesterday was little short of phenomenal. It is as follows: Two bases on balls, one hit batter, two safe hits and two strike-outs. This, with an error which was better than a hit, sent in three runs, just two more than the crowd had asked for, and one more than proved needed to win.

When the last half opened Ashe seemed to have lost control, and before any one was out the bases were filled, on an error and called balls. Leach was next up, and everybody looked for something to happen. It happened all right: Leach sent a line fly to Buckley, who gathered it in in style, and then lined it home to catch Beaumont, who tried in vain to score from third. Bedlam seemed to have broken loose about that time, but things became quiet again when Smith's base on balls again filled the three corners, with Waldron bent on doing or dying. He did his part, and it was Coughlin who did the dying. Waldron drove the ball safe to centre; one man scored from third, and Coughlin tried to follow from centre, but Gilbert's sharp return reached Crisham first, and Coughlin turned back. It was too late, however, and the game stopped when Crisham threw to Dinsmore who touched Coughlin out.

Cotter had an off day on grounders, never his strong point, and missed two easy bounders; O'Connell's work was hardly up to the mark, Dinsmore and France had but little to do, but did it well, and the reliable outfielders each robbed a Pawtucket man of a safe drive. The score is as follows:

NOTES.

The carpenters, who are preparing the grounds for the horse show, had gotten in some of their work before the game. They were spectators only while the game was on. The new boxes were used by the bleacher crowd, and spare pieces of board helped to add to the noise they were willing to make, and there was a disposition on the part of everybody to make all the noise he could. It was one of those games in which everybody takes an interest.

In the fourth inning Smith retired the Newports on three pitched balls and was liberally applauded, so was Ashe when he followed this by retiring Pawtucket on four pitched balls.

The umpiring was something like the wash on the fence, only more so.

The Newport delegation to New Bedford says that the kind of umpiring put up by Roberts in Wednesday's game was several degrees stronger than robbery, and they do not understand how he allowed Newport to win. A delegation of about twenty saw the game between Portland and New Bedford in the afternoon and used their voices to their utmost to help the Maine club win. They are satisfied that some of the things said against New Bedford are true.

Wednesday the nine of the Dolphin went to the Training Station and played the boys' nine. The latter were on their mettle and won out 9 to 7 in a very pretty contest. Cameron, on first base for the boys, played well and the umpiring of Yeoman McCormick gave general satisfaction. The batteries were Donnelly and Hummelbach for the boys and Collins and Dixon for the Dolphin.

Klobedanz, late of Fall River, pitched for Boston yesterday against Cincinnati. He made a hit at once, pitching winning ball and batting hard. The team braced and won. Lajoie, also late of Fall River, is proving such a good one in Philadelphia that the papers of that city are urging Captain Nash to go to New England for some more players.

There will be no more games on the local ground until after the horse show.

Tomorrow the Pawtuckets play two games at home with the Portlands.

NEWPORT'S FIRST DRY DOCK AND MARINE RAILWAY.

Fully sixty years ago Mr. William Hazard Crandall, an experienced shipbuilder, removed from Westerly, Rhode Island, to this town, and erected a very tasteful and convenient house on Poplar street. He soon after purchased lots and commenced erecting the first dry dock and marine railway in this place, on Washington street, a few rods from the present steamboat landing. The docks were dredged and sufficient water found in that locality to build and repair vessels of large dimensions. Here several ships, brigs and barques were successively built, as follows: Ship Erie, built in 1828; ship John Coggeshall, whaler, 1831; ship William Engs, merchantman, 1832; ship Audley Clarke, whaler, 1833; ship Mechanic, 1834; ship Menkar, whaler, Captain Joseph Sherman, 1841; brig Gov. Coddington, 1829; brig Canonicus, Captain John Bigley, 1835; steamboat Camano, built for Cuba, 1833; steamboat Amendares, also built for Cuba, 1835.

The sails and canvass used on these vessels were furnished from Allen's or Townsend's sail lofts, while the spars came from Lee's lumber yard. On these ways steamboat Rushlight was also constructed, which ran for several years as a passenger and freight boat, between this city and Providence, afterward being sold to parties in New York and re-named the Pilot.

Mr. Crandall in his day employed hundreds of skilled mechanics, and Saturday evenings were busy ones in his little counting room, a few rods from the dry dock, where gold, silver and bank bills were given in exchange for the week's solid industry. The streets in the vicinity from 6 o'clock in the morning till 6 in the evening presented an animated appearance with scores of men going to and returning from their avocations. Much of the timber used came from the far off woods of Maine or the forests of Hackensack, New Jersey, and as wages were very fair in those days each workman could easily afford his Sunday dinner of island turkey and yankee plum pudding. Quite a number of men, designated caulkers, were engaged in the shipyard, bearing with them large oblong boxes, filled with oakum, hemp, chisels and mallets, with which they closed the crevices in the hulls of the new craft.

The launching of a vessel from Crandall's ways always brought together a motley crowd, and when a bottle of old Madeira or pale sherry was broken over her bow, and the new barque, gay with flags and bunting, had received its name, her prow had scarcely touched the water before huzza and cheer arose from the immense gathering, and each spectator hoped that old King Neptune and good Father Eolus would be very kind and considerate to the fair young vessel now entrusted to their keeping.

A large iron cauldron in the rear of the office, filled with hot liquid tar, gave a healthy perfume to the entire neighborhood, and gnats, flies and mosquitoes were scarcely known even by name.

The genial face and erect, manly bearing of Mr. Crandall were daily seen on the street, and he always had a pleasant word and a cheery greeting for all he chanced to meet.

At present the hoarse breathing of the locomotive and the sharp tones of the engine bell are substituted for the blow of the sledge hammer and the click of the chisel.

On the Fridays subsequent to the last launching many of the school boys of the old seaport town selected for their declamations Longfellow's ever popular and appropriate poem, "The Building of the Ship." N.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—An original pension has been granted to John O'Hara of this city.

—Rev. R. M. Sherman, Jr., of St. Stephen's Church, Newark, N. J., will officiate Sunday in Emmanuel Church.

—Rev. H. J. White of the Pleasant Street Baptist Church, Worcester, Mass., will preach at the Second Baptist Church Sunday.

—Mrs. Gardiner G. Howland, wife of the business manager of the New York Herald, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert M. Cushing, on Ocean avenue.

—The Newport County Club will have a bicycle run this evening, starting from their Franklin street quarters, which have been little used this summer.

—Steamer City of Lowell will make its last excursion of the season from New London to Newport tomorrow, arriving here about 1 o'clock and returning at 3 o'clock.

—Mrs. Winfield Scott and Miss Scott of Fort Washington, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Stevens of Hoboken and Hon. William Everett of Boston are at the Ocean House.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ross Whistler, Miss Maggie Smith, Miss Keller, Miss Jenkins, Mr. Columbus O'Donnell, Mr. Frank Hambleton, Dr. Shearer, and Miss Shearer, all of Baltimore, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hutton.

—Acting Secretary McAdoo of the Navy Department yesterday detailed a board composed of the commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station, the chiefs of the bureaus of navigation and ordnance, the president of the War College and the chief intelligence officer to consider and revise the plans for the defence of the Atlantic coast prepared at the Naval War College. The plans, when passed upon by the board, will be submitted to the Secretary of the Navy for approval.

A NAP AFTER DINNER.

To test the supposed advantages of a nap after dinner, Dr. Schule of Fribourg has made a series of experiments on two normal subjects. The contents of the stomach were analyzed a few hours after meals, some of which were followed by sleep and some were not, and the results indicate that sleep weakens the stomach's movements, while the acidity of the gastric juice is increased. On the other hand, simple repose in a horizontal position stimulates the motion of the stomach without increasing the acidity of the gastric juice. It is concluded, therefore, that one should stretch himself out for a rest after a hearty meal, but should not go to sleep, especially if the stomach is in a dilated condition or its juices very acid.

Jim Jackson—Me.—[Puck.

"I am training myself for an editor," timidly remarked the young widow, as she approached the editor's desk.

"I am sorry, madam, but it is useless for you to waste your time on me; I already have a wife and six children."—[Washington Times.

"Mrs. Giddinby says that your sermon last Sunday was the best she ever heard you preach," said the clergyman's wife.

"H'm'm. As I look back I remember that I touched very severely upon the short comings she doesn't happen to possess."—[Washington Star.

"You speak of the brooks," said the critic as he looked over his friend's poem, "as the most joyous things in nature."

"So they are," said the poet.

"But you are inconsistent."

"Why?"

"Because later on you say they are always murmuring."—[Washington Times.

Fenderson—I consider it a good rule, and it's one I have tried to follow, to say bright things only once in a while; in that way my good things are remembered. If I was all the time getting off bright things, they wouldn't be noticed.

Fogg—A very good rule; but, Fendy, don't you think you observe it too closely?—[Boston Transcript.

PERSONALS.

....The chief diversion of Mme. Navarro (Miss Mary Anderson) is chess playing.

....Mayor Pingree of Detroit, who is the Republican candidate for governor of Michigan, is in Boston on private business.

....Senator John Martin of Kansas is fond of athletics, but not an athlete. He does not ride the wheel, but likes it very much for men, boys and children—not for women.

....A new royal singer is Princess Ludmilla of Wrede, whose husband's name appears in the Almanach De Gotha. She is a mezzo-soprano, a pupil of Mme. Marchesi, and is singing in public in London.

....Yukichi Fukuzawa, the "Grand Old Man" of Japan, visited this country about thirty-five years ago. When he returned home he introduced Webster's Dictionary into Japan and one of those who introduced the study of English into the Japanese schools. He is the proprietor of the Jiji Shimpo (Japanese Times), but he has retired from the active management of it.

....Robert Post of Nashville, Ohio, a wealthy farmer, has made a gift of $5,000 cash to the Wooster University. He made a visit to the institution and was so much impressed with the school that he hunted up Rev. R. M. Donaldson and turned over the money. It was unsolicited and Mr. Post was not known by any officer or student of the university.

....One little incident of local interest in the life of F. Nicholas Crouch, author of "Kathleen Mavourneen," who has just died, is worth recalling. J. K. Murray, now leading singer at the Castle Square Theatre, presented an Irish play (Glen-da-Loch) at the Columbia Theatre some years ago, and hearing that Crouch was in want, hunted him up, and brought him to Boston, to conduct the orchestra when he sang "Kathleen Mavourneen." The poor composer presented a pathetic spectacle, trying to conduct, his white gloved hands trembling with excitement and his body too feeble to give him strength enough to wield the baton properly. All who saw him were much affected. Crouch was always very grateful to Mr. Murray for his thoughtfulness.

THE TRUE RATIO.

The true ratio of gold and silver today is between 31 and 32 to 1. The ratio at which we ceased to coin silver free on private account, but at which we have coined more than $400,000,000 of it on the nation's account, is 16 to 1.

If we should go to free and unlimited coinage on private account we should return to the principle established by Hamilton and Jefferson when free coinage was introduced in our monetary system. That is, we should seek the true ratio between the two metals, which is nearer 32 to 1 than 31 to 1.—[Chicago Times-Herald.

PROBATE NOTICES.

Probate notices are published in the Daily News as ordered by the Courts of Probate in the several towns of Newport County. Administrators, executors and guardians are solicited to ask the courts to order the insertion of their advertisements in the Newport Daily News. The cost is as low as in any other paper in the county.

At the Court of Probate, of the City of Newport, in Rhode Island, holden on Monday, the 3rd day of August A. D. 1896, at 10 o'clock A. M.

LEWIS L. SIMMONS, Administrator on the estate of George F. Fowler, late of Newport, deceased, presents his first and final account of administration on said estate and prays that the same may be examined, allowed and recorded.

It is ordered that the consideration of said account be referred to Monday, the 24th day of August 1896, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the Probate Office in the City Hall, Newport, and that notice thereof be given to all persons interested, by advertisement in the Newport Daily News once a week at least, for fourteen days. WM. H. HAMMETT, Probate Clerk.

Guardian's Notice.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1896.

LI HUNG CHANG.

Li Hung Chang, the greatest diplomat and statesman of the East, is soon to be with us. What he will have to say of our treatment of his countrymen in the Western states and territories we do not know, if he speaks at all on that matter. It is a subject which we shall be glad to ignore and which very likely the distinguished visitor will wholly pass by until a later day.

It is well understood that Mr. Li has no official mission to this country. He simply bears a letter of compliment and friendship and costly gifts, which are similar to those he has already presented to Queen Victoria, Emperor William, King Leopold of Belgium and the president of France. His mission, however, is to make friends and acquire knowledge which may be useful to him and his government, and help on to friendly relations among the nations; for the great wall of separation between China and the rest of the world is now thoroughly broken down and never to be rebuilt.

It is said that our government has been slow and comparatively indifferent in regard to the coming of the distinguished visitor—much more so than were the governments of Europe. President Cleveland has always been averse to the show business, and, as Li has no official communication to make to the government, was quite averse to receiving him as the guest of the nation, and if we understand it, he is not now to be so received. But as he brings a letter from the Chinese Emperor to the President, Mr. Cleveland will leave his summer home for a season and welcome the stranger in due form on his arrival at New York, where he is expected next week.

According to the program announced, Li Hung Chang will see but a small portion of our country. He is not expected to go to Washington, to visit Boston or to even come to Newport, three of the most important centres of western civilization. And though he crosses the continent on his way home even Chicago will be passed by on the other side. The people of that city complain that they will not have the pleasure of entertaining Li Hung Chang, for the reason that the Canadian authorities were more zealous and courteous than those of the United States, and arranged with him to visit Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa and to go through the Dominion to Vancouver, while he was patiently waiting for some formal invitation or some sign of welcome from the United States. When the invitation finally came his arrangement with the Dominion authorities had been made, and so he will cross the continent mostly on British rather than American soil, and gain new views of the greatness and glory of the British empire. Every true citizen of this republic will regret the failure of this representative of the East to visit our great West and mark the progress of civilization in that direction.

Every European country which Li has visited has given him a hearty welcome. And though his tarrying among us is to be short and his opportunities necessarily limited, it should be the pleasure of the American people to make his coming welcome, and enable him to carry home a favorable report.

THE TWO SEWALLS.

According to a now current report there is a disposition to shout too loudly over the courage of young Harold M. Sewall in taking the stump for the Republicans when his father is Democratic candidate for Vice President. Harold represents the Republican end of the Bath shipbuilding concern, and his father takes care of the Democratic side. The son was successful in introducing a ship subsidy plank into the St. Louis platform, and the father wished the Chicago convention to do the same thing. While the Chicago platform makers did not accept the plank, the convention gave him the nomination for Vice President in its stead.

And what is more, as the story goes, Harold had been a persistent office seeker under a Democratic administration, and only when President Cleveland sent the emphatic word, "I shall not appoint Mr. Sewall to any office," did the young man turn to the Republican party. The Sewalls evidently are in politics for renown only, and with a representative worker in each party has its subsidy cup right side up whichever party may succeed.

AN EMBARRASSING SITUATION.

Tom Watson is the funny man of this political campaign. As nobody officially notifies him of his nomination to the Vice Presidency on the Populist ticket, he has been compelled to notify himself, and then publish his letter of acceptance. But he finds the place already filled and proceeds to work to get Sewall out of the way. But the man from Maine refuses to move on, and so the two men are squeezing to get into the one place.

Mr. Bryan is thus hemmed in between two fires. If he throws the shield of protection over Sewall he will lose the Populist vote in several if not all the states. If he favors Watson he is sure to suffer from the Democratic side. He could be happy with either if the other were away, but as it is, a cold neutrality is all that is left for him.

It will be remembered that his managers would not allow him to proceed to a friendly call on Sewall when he was well on the way, nor will they permit a gracious smile for Watson, who is in waiting for recognition. And so the Populist candidate for President is in deep distress, not knowing what to do at a time when something must be done or all is lost.

The Southerners are true to their old-time leaders and their families. We find the following in the Richmond Dispatch: "A recent letter in the New York Herald from Narragansett Pier stated that Mrs. Jefferson Davis was to be seen at the Pier on a bicycle, followed by her daughter, also on a wheel. We learn from those who have been visiting Narragansett Pier that there is not a word of truth in this statement. Mrs. Davis detests a bicycle, and has never attempted to mount one. Miss Winnie, though fond of riding, has not been on a wheel for a year, and is not able to ride now because she is still suffering from her wounded ankle. The Herald correspondent must have been either the unsuspecting victim of a joker or the originator of a false story, designed to annoy Mrs. Davis."

Hon. E. J. Phelps of Vermont, ex-minister to England and recognized there, as here, as one of our ablest men, though always a Democrat, now bolts the Bryan ticket. When asked at the meeting of the American Bar Association as to his position, he said: "Of course, I am for McKinley and Hobart, and no one else during these critical times. It is my patriotic duty, and should be the duty of all loyal and patriotic citizens, to support the sound money candidates in this campaign. You may quote me as saying that in this campaign I am first, last, and always for McKinley and Hobart, and shall do everything to further their election. I am utterly opposed to everything that tends toward repudiation and anarchy."

Says the Atlanta Constitution, "The gold organs were compelled to publish Mr. Bryan's great speech, and that is victory enough for the second week in August." It is fortunate that the Atlanta Constitution is so easily satisfied, otherwise it might suffer from depression of spirits before the campaign is over. Among his opponents it has been thought that the worst thing that could have happened to Mr. Bryan was the extensive publication and circulation of his Madison Square Garden speech, especially as it is everywhere to be followed by that of Bourke Cockran.

When one comes to reflect that Grover Cleveland is a Democrat and that W. J. Bryan is a Democrat and that A. P. Gorman is a Democrat and that Senator Tillman is a Democrat, one begins to entertain doubts as to what Democracy is. The people are coming to think, however, that Democracy is something besides a name. There are many self-styled Democrats in the party today who are no Democrats at all when judged by principles, as every one can see.

Even Mark Hanna admits that Republican prospects are not good in the West and South. He regards the East as practically safe. But it is well to keep in mind the fact that if McKinley carries every state north of Mason and Dixon's line and east of the Mississippi it will not elect him. It is not at all likely that he will carry all of these, and so large inroads must be made into what is generally conceded to be Populist and free silver territory in order to win.

Mr. Bryan evidently thinks it possible to carry New York. He announces his purpose to speak in most of the chief cities, and his friends are evidently putting up a big game in that direction. There is evidently a big deal under way between machines and possibly purchase and sale may be effected. But the delivery of the goods will be quite another thing.

It is estimated that there are 3,000,000 more voters in this country in 1896 than there were four years ago. A very large percentage of these are young men who have attained their majority since the last Presidential campaign. Nobody knows how these young men are going to vote, and there are enough of them to turn the tide in either direction.

A great many New York Republicans want Governor Morton to stand for another term, but he thus far declines. In view of some of the men who are named for the place in case there is a change, it is to be hoped that Mr. Morton may yield to the wishes of his friends.

Lord Chief Justice Russell of England receives a warm welcome from the judges and lawyers of this country. He has delivered an address at Saratoga before the American Bar Association, on international law, and taken an active part in the proceedings of that body.

Senator Sherman is now being asked about his private business affairs. It isn't the kind of a campaign the people want this year, but it may be just as well for some of the Republicans to see how the shoe fits on the other foot, says the Republican Haverhill Gazette.

Hon. William L. Douglas of Brockton declines the proffer of a gubernatorial nomination at the hands of the National Democrats. He says his business affairs demand all his time and attention; in other words, as a shoemaker he decides to stick to his last.

Reports say that Delaware is loaded with peaches this year and that the yield will nearly break all records, while the fruit is excellent in quality. If this be so, why in the name of good peaches is so much poor fruit sent to market.

It is understood that the Venezuelan dispute will be settled substantially on the basis laid down by Secretary Olney. The present administration has made a splendid record for this country in its conduct of foreign affairs.

The New York Daily News thinks the greatest political change in the present attitude of Democracy is that its rank and file are leading the bosses instead of the latter leading the former.

According to Dr. Nansen the ice trust extends to the North Pole, and there is no good prospect of breaking it up. Brave man as he is Nansen announces that he shall not try again.

Mr. Bryan's oratory aroused a good deal of interest in Sleepy Hollow up the Hudson, whatever may have been the result in New York city.

In consequence of the decline in the price of silver the American silver dollar is worth a fraction more than fifty-one cents.

Every one can now see that there is a difference between a "boy orator" and a "man orator."

Candidate Watson is a thorn in the flesh of the Bryan management and a sharp one at that.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The annual races of the Connecticut Yacht Club will occur Wednesday, August 26, Saturday, August 29, and Monday, August 31, at 2 P. M. Cups will be given to the boats making the greatest number of points in each class. There is a special class for thirty-footers, and several half-raters have been entered. Entries are already being received by Mr. H. F. Smith, chairman of the race committee. Although late in starting, the committee are encouraged to feel that they will have three interesting races this season. The thirty-foot class and the half raters will add to the interest of the races.

The Jamestown ball nine will play the Fort Adams team this afternoon at the fort, steamer Sylvan Shore taking the club and their friends over and return.

One of the most enjoyable hops of the season was given at the Champlin House last evening. The house and grounds were prettily illuminated and attracted much attention. The hop was marked by the presence of an unusual number of young men. Although the hall is not as large as that at other hotels, it has the best floor for dancing, and all are enthusiastic in their praise of the success of the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Despland to make the hop an enjoyable and delightful success.

The hotel proprietors report that the indications point to a late season, many people having arranged to stay later than September 15. Next week many rooms will be vacated by those who of necessity will return to their homes, but many of their places will be filled by those who have been waiting for some time to obtain accommodations. A fair estimate makes the number of strangers now in Jamestown three thousand, which is several hundred in excess of any previous season. The place appears to be about starting in on a second boom. There will probably be some ten or twelve houses built this winter, and indications point very strongly to the erection of another hotel before next season. The site has not been settled upon but it is quite certain that it will not be located near the ferry landing.

Mrs. Steele at the Smith cottage gave a straw ride to Benvenuti last evening.

The Pioneer colored quartet gave a concert at the Bay View last evening.

With one game to the credit of each the Jamestowns and Fort Adams teams played off the tie yesterday afternoon. The Jamestown nine went over to the Fort intent upon winning the series. They had Clark, who is to enter the University of Pennsylvania next fall, in the box and he proved a riddle to the hard-hitting soldiers. Twenty strike-outs to Clark's credit is the record for the game and "Buck" Burdette, who caught him for the first time, held the speed wonder in an excellent manner. The finish was hair raising. In the last half of the ninth, with two men out and bases clear, Clark and Stillman singled. Dillingham was hit by a pitched ball and "Johnny" Ware came to the bat. He was equal to the emergency and hit past third, bringing in the winning run. The features of the game were the pitching of Clark, the catching of Burdette and the batting of Ware, Dillingham and Stillman. B. Parks umpired a fair and impartial game.

The work on Shoreby Hill, as laid out for the present, is nearly completed. Several miles of good streets have been made, a portion of which is Telford; there are good sidewalks upon the streets, which will be bordered later by trees. The pretty park between the main entrances to the property is prettier than ever and improves in beauty every day, attracting much attention from the strangers in the place. At the solicitation of a gentleman connected with the Presbyterian church the company has agreed to contribute a site for the erection of a church edifice. It is understood that there is considerable inquiry for building sites on the property and it is quite safe to say that several buildings will be erected on the property before the next season. The company have had the stone wall removed on the north road boundary of the property and will erect a neat fence. Other improvements, besides those already near completion, are contemplated by the company to be commenced in the near future.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, August 21, 8 A. M.—For New England—Generally fair tonight, probably local showers Saturday; southerly winds; cooler in eastern portions Saturday afternoon.

FOR BOSTON AND VICINITY.

BOSTON, August 21, 8 A. M.—For Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight; fair Saturday, probably followed by showers in the afternoon or night; cooler Saturday; variable winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Considerable cloudiness is noted in the northern states, west of New England, this morning, and light precipitation is occurring in parts of the upper lake region. Light showers have already fallen in the western lake region, the West and Northwest, while in the southern states the weather has continued generally fair. Slight barometric depressions cover the Missouri valley region, but there is really no definite storm formation. The high barometer area extends along the Atlantic coast, with maximum pressure on the south Atlantic coast. The temperature has made a slight increase throughout the entire country and now registers at about normal figures, without extreme heat in any section. The morning range in New England is in the 60s, except in northern Vermont, where the mercury is down to 55 degrees; generally clear skies in this district, but increasing cloudiness will probably soon occur.

OPPOSED TO BRYAN.

Rhode Island Sound-Money Democratic Delegates.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, August 21.—The sound-money Democrats are arranging for delegates to go to Indianapolis on September 2 and who will be selected at the state convention next Wednesday. The state is entitled to eight and double that number of good men are available. The list so far made up from which selections will be made, is as follows, C. C. Nichols, Arnold Greene, William C. Barker, Augustus S. Miller, Gardiner C. Sims, Jesse H. Metcalf, John P. Reynolds, Oscar Lapham, Charles C. Mumford, S. H. Bullock, James J. Van Alen, Amasa M. Eaton, Benjamin Case and Edmund Walker.

John Sherman Confident of Republican Success.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, August 21.—Senator John Sherman passed through the city this morning on his way to his home in Mansfield, after a week's tour over the state in campaign work. He said that he was very hopeful of Republican success in the coming national election and saw and heard nothing on his trip over the state that would lead him to think that Ohio would be any less decidedly Republican than usual.

THE FOURTH DAY.

Larned, R. D. Wrenn, Fischer and Neel Winners at Tennis.

Still the beautiful weather continues—for the tennis enthusiasts as well as for everybody else in Newport. As the tournament progresses and the lists narrow towards the finals, the interest increases, and this morning's attendance was the largest and most fashionable since the opening day.

Today the post of honor on the championship court was awarded to the match between Larned and Whitman. This furnished in the first set a surprise, not to say a mild sensation. Larned started in to come to the net on the very first ball, and killed Whitman's drives for three successive points. Then Whitman began to use his peculiar service, which carries the most pronounced cut of any seen here for a long time, and bounces almost anywhere except in the direction expected. Larned was unable utterly to handle it, and Whitman ran out the game purely on the service. This un-looked-for turn of affairs so disconcerted Larned that he could not even win on his own service in the second game, and in the third Whitman needed to use his unique service only once or twice to win out. This made the score 3-0 in his favor. By this time Larned had begun to fathom the mystery of the service, and to recover his equanimity after the surprise. He won the fourth, and then, on Whitman's service for the first time, the fifth. From this time out Whitman's strongest card had no terrors for Larned, and he proceeded to play his game as though nothing had happened. This was steady and skillful throughout, accurate in passing, sharp and clean at the net, generally intelligent and well controlled. Whitman showed good tennis ability, but was clearly over-balanced, and after the first set was able to get only three more games during the entire match.

Again today the Wrenn family furnished an interesting match, "Bob" being opposed this morning by his brother George. The latter is a strong and promising player and gave the ex-champion a hard fight. He won the first set before "Bob" had really waked up, and then fought so hard for each of the others as to throw all to vantage games before he finally let them go. This was an interesting contest, and divided the attention of the spectators.

Another well contested match was that between Fischer and Sheldon, in which two sets went beyond games all. Sheldon succeeded in winning but one set, but he made Fischer fight long and hard for his victory.

Neel and Stevens were the last to finish. This was again a struggle between back-line and net play, in which the latter won, though not till after a hard fight. Stevens again sought to maintain his idea that the baseline is the place from which to win, while Neel came constantly to the net to prove the fallacy of that theory. In the first set the play was even, but in the next Stevens could not withstand the aggressive work of his opponent, and went down easily. The last two were stubbornly contested, Neel repeatedly having the advantage, but Stevens almost as often pulling up again. He succeeded in taking the third after it was seemingly lost, and almost repeated the performin the fourth. Neel braced, however, and won out by sharp work at the net.

The summary of matches decided today is as follows:

THIRD ROUND.

Larned beat Whitman, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.
R. D. Wrenn beat G. L. Wrenn, 2-6, 8-6, 7-5, 9-7.

INTERSCHOLASTIC—PRELIMINARY ROUND.

Walton (Columbia) beat Beggs (Princeton), by default.

IKE JOHNSON EXHIBITION.

Tomorrow afternoon Ike Johnson, the well-known bicycle instructor, will give a bicycle exhibition, on Freebody Park. Mr. Johnson will give his own well-known exhibitions of fancy and trick riding, which of itself is well worth seeing; Philip Sheehan will give burlesque riding, and Mr. Weir will show how to carry bicycles. There will be races, a one mile for novices, one mile for boys, one mile, handicap, and a half mile obstacle race, in which there will be some sport. The exhibition will close with a polo game on bicycles, the first time that such a game has been played here, Johnson and Sheehan playing against Weir and Kohnheim.

THE NEENAN INQUEST.

Nothing Learned About the Cause of His Death.

The inquest in the Neenan case was continued yesterday afternoon at the Police Station.

Dr. Turner, the city physician, was first called. He had visited the Police Station on the morning of August 7, and found Neenan very near death. There was a wound on his head, but apparently no fracture of the skull. Thought it best to send him to the hospital, but did not believe anything could be done for him. Witness followed and Neenan died at the hospital while he was there. Did not remember just what he said on the permit for Neenan's admission to the hospital. In such a case, accident, the hospital always received patients without a permit.

Elmer E. Leonard saw Neenan fall on Broadway. He came down, looking for an officer. Later he saw a crowd following Neenan on West Broadway Neenan said "I am all right." There was blood on his face.

Mrs. Rogers, the police matron, visited the station on August 7 about 7 o'clock and saw Neenan in the cell. Sergeant Griffith came in and she called to him, receiving no response. Captain Garnett then came in and opened the cell. Witness felt of the man's pulse and said he was dying. The captain said they would send him to the hospital. Dr. Turner came and the man was taken out carefully and carried to the hospital.

John E. Sullivan was on his way home on August 6 when he met Neenan near Tilley & Easton's factory. His head was hanging back. When within a few feet of witness he fell backward to the gutter. Witness called to a passing driver to give assistance. He carried his boy, who was with him, to his father's house near by, meeting a policeman on the way, and then returned to where Neenan lay. Some one was sent to telephone, and Neenan was asked his name and if he had been hit. He told his name and said he had been hit on Bath road. The policeman asked who hit him, but got no response. Neenan said he wanted to go home to the Sherman House. The policeman said the hospital was the proper place for him. Neenan said: "I am all right if you put me on my feet." The crowd did so, but his head fell back and they again laid him on the ground until the ambulance arrived and he was put in it.

Sergeant Scott relieved Captain Garnett about 2:45 o'clock on the morning of August 7. Passed through the corridor seven or eight times, watching a girl who had stabbed herself. Passed Neenan's cell. He appeared to be breathing easily. Nothing had been said to him by the captain about Neenan's condition or releasing him in the morning. Had there been, his condition would have been discovered earlier, as it was the sergeant's custom to release prisoners about 6 a. m., so they could go to work.

Officer Peter Ring knew Neenan, saw him in the cell on the morning of August 7.

John B. Wilson was on his way home with some children on the night of August 6, when the children called his attention to the queer way a man was walking down Broadway. While watching him the man fell. Witness went to him and saw he was a stranger and that his face, neck and coat were bloody. Asked his name, and the man said Neenan or Keenan, and that he lived in the Sherman House and wanted to go home. He was in an uncomfortable position and witness moved him. He begged so hard to go home that I assisted in lifting him up. His head fell back in the same way as before, and he was laid down. He said he had been struck on Bath road. He was bleeding freely. He did not say who struck him. Saw blood on his face before he fell. Witness said, when the man was put in the ambulance, that the hospital was the proper place for him.

Officer Frank Eckhart assisted in taking Neenan to the hospital. His hands felt as though his time was about up. There was considerable blood in the cell and on his coat and the newspapers. His hat was bent and bloody.

Levi Jackson, janitor of the station, saw blood in front of the cell door and in the cell. He thought the man was dead, and when requested by Mrs. Rogers to feel of his pulse, was afraid to do so. He thought the man near his end. Removed considerable coagulated blood from the cell. He had Neenan's coat and showed it to the coroner. It was stiff with blood.

Chief of Police Read was at the station when Neenan was brought in, but took no part in the proceedings. Captain Garnett met the ambulance at the door and attended to whatever was necessary.

The inquest was then adjourned to the Newport Hospital, where Superintendent Pickett told of receiving Neenan on August 7 about 8 o'clock. He died at 9:57. Dr. Turner was present. The permit read alcoholism, but on the policemen's report the patient was put in the accident ward and a priest was called to administer the last rites to the dying man. Word was sent to the station on August 6 that there was no room for additional alcoholic patients. Special arrangements had been made to care for accident patients, as it was thought there would be accidents in such a crowd. No permit was needed for the admission of such to the hospital.

This probably closed the inquest unless Coroner Stanhope is able to learn of some other people who can throw more light on the case.

The testimony taken shows that Neenan was killed, and that the police knew he had been hit, yet they gave out the report that the man cut his head in falling, and, though they knew he had been bleeding before his last fall, they neither sent him to the hospital nor made any arrangements to watch his condition at the station, he being put in as an ordinary drunk, except that a pillow was made of his coat and some papers.

MR. CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR., NOT HERE.

There were many on the lookout at the Casino today for Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., who with his wife was expected here last night. Mr. Vanderbilt was not seen because he did not come. Furthermore, it is stated on good authority that he will not come, at least for the present, and will not be present at the marriage of his sister, Miss Gertrude, to Mr. H. P. Whitney. The report that he was coming seems to have been premature to say the least.

OCEAN HOUSE ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given last evening by Mr. Leland of the Ocean House to the guests of the hotel and his friends in Newport was a very successful and pleasing affair. The grounds in front of the hotel were a blaze of light. The large permanent electric light lamps were covered with red, giving a pleasant glow, and strung across the drive, in front of the piazza, among the trees and about the band stand were numerous smaller electric lights in red, white and blue. Bunting, flags and Chinese lanterns on the piazzas and in the corridors added to the picturesqueness of the scene.

The guests were received by Mrs. G. T. Schemerhorn, Mrs. H. E. Dudley, Mr. E. L. Simpson, Mrs. Warren Leland, Jr., Mrs. W. R. Moore, Mrs. W. H. Moorhouse, Mrs. S. C. Noble, Mrs. Braddin Hamilton and Mrs. G. H. Holland. The reception committee consisted of Hon. Melville Bull, Rev. Braddin Hamilton and Messrs. H. F. Harrington, H. A. Stevenson, W. H. Moorhouse, E. D. Dickerson, G. Sackeradorff, L. H. Turner, Frank Wheeler, John E. Mayo and H. F. Spink.

The large parlor was used for dancing and Professor Browne's orchestra played the following program:

Two Step, "El Capitan,".....Sousa
Waltz, "Des Blondes,".....Gungl
Lancers, "Rob Roy,".....R. de Koven
Two Step, "King Cotton,".....Sousa
Polka, "Golf,".....Silberberg

Polka, "Sambrinus,".....Rudolph Biel
Waltz, "Les Parthenes,".....Waldteufel
Two Step, "Honeymoon,".....Rosey
Polka, "Bicentile,".....Rowell
Waltz, "Angel's Dream,".....Tobani

The floor managers were Ch. Ernest Shober, Whitford B. Cole, Colonel D. E. Young, Lieutenant A. V. Betts, C. M. Jones, J. F. Talmadge, Jr., Lieutenant Richmond P. Davis, Walter S. Brooks and Leo Donovan.

Supper was served from 11 to 1 o'clock in the large dining room, which was prettily decorated.

Large numbers were attracted to the hotel to listen to the music and see the decorations, which were really well worth seeing.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE
With your eyes. If SEEING is uncomfortable, whether you wear glasses or not, have your eyes examined by a SPECIALIST; some one you have confidence understands the eye and all the defects it is subject to, you will then have each eye examined separately with SCIENTIFIC TESTS by a person with experience. Don't be tempted to TAKE A CHANCE with your eyes simply because a man has glasses to sell and OFFERS THEM CHEAP. How can any one without knowledge and experience tell you what your eyes require? Are you willing to trust to chance in getting what is right? Don't force YOUR EYES to fit the glasses. Have the GLASSES FITTED to the eyes. I have been successful in fitting ACCURATELY the majority of the spectacle-wearing people of Newport. Ask some of them. THEY ARE MY REFERENCES. Let me try your case; advice costs you nothing.

SPECIAL WIRE TO THE NEWS.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

Thirty-eight States Will be Represented at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., August 21.—The correspondence of the national Democratic executive committee has grown to enormous proportions with'n the past week, and the indications for a large gathering at the convention of September 2 continue to grow. Chairman Bynum and his co-workers are confident that not less than thirty-eight states will be represented by full delegations, and believe that the convention is likely to draw a crowd of from five to ten thousand people. There was much gratification expressed over the showing made by the national Democrats in New York and the calling of the New York convention for August 31. They are watching with much interest the state convention in Kentucky.

The executive committee will hold its next full meeting at the Grand Hotel in this city on Monday before the convention, and the national committee will meet at the same hotel the next day to make up the temporary convention roll. While the appointment of temporary officers of the convention will be made by the national committee at its full meeting, the executive committee will probably recommend such officers, and there is talk of appointing Bourke Cockran as either temporary or permanent chairman.

It was arranged by correspondence yesterday that both Maryland and South Carolina shall send full delegations, and Mr. Bynum now believes that the only states not represented in the convention will be Idaho, Utah, and Nevada, and possibly Wyoming, though there are some prospects of the last-named state sending delegates.

CHICAGO, August 21.—The state central committee of the sound-money Democracy met yesterday in the Palmer House and continued the work of preparing for their state convention, which will be held here next Tuesday. Favorable reports were received from many counties of the state. Each of the twenty-two Congressional districts will have delegations here. The Twentieth district appears to be the most stubborn in refusing to recognize the call of the sound money Democrats. Reports in the hands of Secretary Spangler indicate that all but three of the one hundred and two counties in the state will be represented by delegates.

OMAHA, Neb., August 21.—The gold Democrats of Nebraska named a delegation to the Indianapolis convention yesterday. A conference of the state central committee and leading Democrats to the number of nearly one hundred was held. Many speeches were made, most of which favored a third ticket and the naming of a state delegation to the national convention. It was the consensus of opinion that a third ticket in Nebraska is not only necessary to aid in the effort to defeat Bryan, but also to preserve the regular party organization in this state after the issues of the present campaign shall have been decided at the polls. Every delegate was pledged to vote for a gold standard candidate for President, but no preference was given as between available men.

ILLICIT DISTILLERS CAPTURED.

Internal Revenue Officers' Successful Raid in Tennessee.

BRISTOL, Tenn., August 21.—A party of twenty-six revenue officers, representing sections of Virginia, went to Franklin county yesterday to break up the most noted band of outlaws and illicit distillers in the state. They captured twelve of the outlaws without bloodshed and destroyed several stills. Among the captured were Calvin Moore, the Martin brothers and the Atkins brothers, the leaders of the gang. While coming out of the mountains the officers were fired upon at different points and in one instance waged a fierce fight on the ambushers, driving them back.

The Manitoba School Question.

OTTAWA, Ont., August 21.—Premier Laurier, in answer to a question whether the Manitoba school question had been disposed of, as had been currently reported, said yesterday that he had invited Attorney General Sifton of the Manitoba government to Ottawa to have conference on the subject. Mr. Sifton had come here, and beyond this he could not say anything at present. Sir Oliver Mowat made a similar reply to the same question in the senate. The minister of justice said the government was on its way towards a settlement, but no report was likely to be made this session.

Head-on Collision in Michigan.

LANSING, Mich., August 21.—A head-on collision occurred yesterday on the Detroit, Lansing & Northern railroad near Fowlerville, between passenger trains. Both engines were ditched and one fireman was fatally injured. Several cars were derailed.

Colorado Prohibitionists Favor Free Silver.

DENVER, Col., August 21.—The Prohibitory state convention yesterday adopted resolutions in favor of free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Many of the delegates declared their intention to vote for Bryan. A full state ticket was nominated, headed by W. A. Matsh for governor.

Army Garrisons to be Abandoned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., August 21.—Major General Miles is preparing for a trip West with a view to deciding on which military posts should be abandoned. One will probably be Fort Wingate, and the post garrison may be moved to Albuquerque. It has been recommended that Washington (D. C.) barracks be abandoned as an artillery post which will place four batteries to be disposed of and enable the War Department to garrison Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook, N. Y., where $100,000 is being spent on barracks. Washington will then become a cavalry post and new barracks can be built on a more suitable site for half the estimated proceeds of a sale of the site of the present barracks. For the same reason that the artillery will be removed from Washington, D. C., the garrisons of Alcatraz Island and Fort Mason will be replaced by infantry and the barracks at Lime Point be prepared for occupancy.

Death of Major James M. Smith.

NEW YORK, August 21.—Major James M. Smith, for the last seventeen years cashier of the naval office at the custom house, died yesterday at his home in this city, aged sixty years. He was born in Pittsfield, Mass. At the outbreak of the war Mr. Smith enlisted in the navy. After a brief service he became second lieutenant of the Tenth New York regiment. As captain in the Twentieth New York cavalry, he served through the Shenandoah valley and other Virginia campaigns. He was prominent in Grand Army and Masonic circles.

The hair, when not properly cared for, loses its lustre, becomes crisp, harsh and dry, and falls out freely with every combing. To prevent this, the best dressing in the market is Ayer's Hair Vigor. It imparts that silky gloss so essential to perfect beauty.

WHAT MR. BRYAN OMITTED IN HIS SPEECH.

Mr. Bryan sensibly made his New York speech at Madison Square Garden better than either of his platforms, better than himself as he has been revealed in former speeches and in his editorials, better than either of the parties whose candidate he is. But in order to do this, Mr. Bryan was obliged to overlook several important things. He forgot to repeat his admission that his triumph would probably be followed by a panic. He did not repeat his hollow and hypocritical demagogic view of the President as a "hired man," bound to servile and unquestioning obedience not only to the blind passions of the majority of the moment, but to his own blind guess as to what that majority might want him to do. He forgot to urge the country to elect a President whose wisdom and experience shall not be used for their benefit, who shall not think for them or counsel Congress, as the Constitution requires, but who shall do the bidding of masters whose will at the best he can generally only surmise. He complained because some of the men who controlled the conventions that nominated him have been called anarchists and communists. He forgot that Altgeld was the controlling influence at Chicago, and that he himself still stands on a ticket with Watson. He overlooked Tillman. He did not remember that only two evenings before his own speech, one of his ardent supporters, speaking of the aristocracy of royalty and of the "aristocracy of gold," uttered the covert threat that the former of these two aristocracies had been overthrown by gunpowder. He utterly forgot the Altgeld declaration of the Chicago platform to the effect that the Federal government should not possess the right to suppress mob violence, even when the people's mails and property are in peril. He neglected to mention the fact that he and his party favored the repudiation of the nation's obligations, and insisted, no matter what might be the excess of the country's expenditures over its receipts, that no money should be borrowed to enable it to pay its debts to those who work for it in office, or on the land and seas, or for days' wages, or to those who furnish it with materials for its buildings, its ships, and its armament, or with food and clothing for its soldiers and sailors. He did not speak of the demand of his Populist supporters that the people be taxed $11,000,000,000 for the purchase of the railroads of the country, and that the property of citizens of the United States invested in this business should be taken by the strong hand of the paternal tyranny that is advocated by himself and his kind. He misrepresented the plank touching the Supreme Court, and which in effect asserts that the court should be packed to carry out the will of the political power. He overlooked his own and his supporters' opposition to civil service reform, an opposition expressed in the Chicago platform by the specious phrase, "We are opposed to life tenure in the public service," and in Mr. Bryan's own speech before the Chicago convention in the untruthful assertion that "the humbler members of our society" are excluded from the benefits of public employment by the present merit system, although, as is well understood, that is the only system under which these "humbler members of our society" have ever been able to obtain employment.—[Harper's Weekly.

ATHLETICS IN WOMEN'S SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES IN ENGLAND.

The women of England seem to take naturally to sport and the things of the field, and from their childhood up they are at home out of-doors. It is not necessary to spur the student to exercise as assiduously as in America, but every means for strengthening their physique that is possible is given them, and not only in their exercise made pleasant, but much is done besides to benefit them physically.

The routine of their daily life is carefully considered, so that it may be conducive to their best development, just as their system of study is calculated to develop their minds to the best advantage. The temperature of the rooms in which they sit, eat, and sleep is always cool. Furnace or steam heat is unknown, and open fireplaces are the only means of heating the apartments. When it is necessary a small coal fire is lighted, but the thermometer in the house seldom goes above seventy degrees, and the girls usually live in a cooler atmosphere.

The students dress warmly in and out doors, but as they are never in an overheated atmosphere, and as they spend so much of their time exercising in the open air, they have good circulation and they do not feel the cold. When they are not engaged in study or sport they take long tramps. In the spring and summer terms they live as much as possible out-of doors, reading or working or lounging under the trees when they are not busy with recitations or games. They are not afraid of wetting their feet or catching cold by going out on a rainy day, but properly clothed and shod for the weather, they walk or play on their teams as usual.

By such good physical training in her girlhood an English woman is well prepared for whatever she has to confront in after life. If she is obliged to earn her own living she is strong in physique for any vocation that she chooses. Her health being good, her mind will be clear and her tastes wholesome. She is well fitted for the duties of wife and mother, and having started early on the good road of indulgence in health-giving pursuits, she will be likely to continue her out-door athletic life. She will escape many of the ills from which weaker women suffer, and she will bequeath the best of all heritages, that of good health, to her children and grandchildren.—[Harper's Bazar.

VENCEDOR AND CANADA.

An International Yacht Race to be Sailed on the Lakes.

TOLEDO, Ohio, August 21.—The international trophy for which the yachts are to compete next week arrived from Tiffany's last evening, and is even more beautiful than had been anticipated. The Canada has arrived in port and is in dry dock, where she will be thoroughly cleaned. Then the yacht will be sent over the course on two or three trials. No changes will be made in the Canada's racing trim, but the Vencedor has a brand new set of canvas which will be tested. The Canada's canvas is said to be in excellent shape. It is stated that Messrs. Berriman and Jarvis have arranged to divide the $1,500 purse, the victor to get sixty per cent. and the loser forty per cent. The proposition, it is said, came from the Canadians and was accepted by the Chicago contingent. The division of the money was instigated by a desire to stick by the sportsmanlike methods heretofore adopted by both clubs in racing. Neither has ever raced for a cash prize and they did not wish to race for money. A slight change has been made in the course, and the start will be four miles from the entrance to the straight channel. Joseph Ruff, who has held the watch on Chicago yachts ever since the days of the old Chicago Yacht Club, has been appointed official timer for the international regatta next week. Mr. Ruff is official timer for the Columbia Yacht Club.

FUSION IN IDAHO.

Democrats and Populists Agree on the Terms.

BOISE, Idaho, August 21.—The Democrats and Populists have agreed upon a basis of fusion and all that now remains is for the Democratic convention to officially ratify the agreement arrived at. The nominations will be distributed as follows: To the Democrats, Presidential electors, supreme court justices, governor, attorney general, treasurer and mine inspector, and to the Populists, the legislature, Senator, Congressman, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor and superintendent of public instruction.

A MASKED MOB.

Negro Cotton Pickers in Texas Beaten and Killed.

WACO, Texas, August 21.—A mob of twenty-five men entered the house of five negro cotton pickers at Hillside Wednesday night. They shot Anderson Vaughan because he was slow in responding to the command of "hands up." He and his companions were taken out and Vaughan, who fell upon the ground, was beaten and kicked. He died in a short time. His companions were beaten in a frightful manner. They made their way here yesterday and officers went to the scene. The members of the mob were masked.

A Montana Bank Bookkeeper Arrested for Embezzling.

BUTTE, Montana, August 21.—Harry N. Wing, bookkeeper for the State Savings Bank, was arrested last night on a charge of embezzling $5,400 from the bank. His shortage covers a period of two years. Wing has confessed.

Japanese Studying American Methods of Oil Working.

PORTLAND, Ind., August 21.—S. Aano, K. Kono and T. Takio, of Tokio, Japan, are here to make a tour through the oil fields. Oil has been found in Japan, though the mode of operation is such as to render the margin of profit quite small. These gentlemen came to ascertain the American way of operating and hope with improved machinery to put their wells on a paying basis. It is possible that they may take some oil workers back with them.

A Cattle Stealer Killed While Breaking Jail.

DEADWOOD, S. D., August 21.—Ray Sewell was shot and killed at Sturgis yesterday by Fred Willard. Sewell was under indictment for cattle stealing and broke jail. Willard killed him in an attempt to recapture him. The coroner's jury exonerated Willard.

Three Deaths from a Dynamite Explosion.

PARRY SOUND, Ontario, August 21.—Near Rose point, Parry Island, yesterday, a heavy charge of dynamite exploded, while being pounded into a rock blast. Foreman Arthur Hillman and James Smith were instantly killed and John Olsen was fatally injured.

THE SITUATION IN NEW YORK.

A new wrinkle appears in the New York situation. If the silver men succeed in forcing measures at the Democratic state convention some of the sound money Democrats will support the Republican state ticket, and in that event the Republicans will achieve an easy triumph.

It is considered that, practically, there are no state issues worthy to be pressed as against the money question. The Raines bill, which at the start was very objectionable, has aroused in execution very little feeling. The Greater New York bill is no longer a topic. There is nothing drawing a sharp line between the two parties but the money question, and if Tammany Hall and its up-the state allies aggressively take the silver side of that, many of the sound money Democrats will unite with the Republicans all along the line, in local, as well as in national affairs.

The Republicans are already in office, and some of the incumbents are personally very popular. Governor Morton particularly stands well with the Democrats. He is not a candidate to succeed himself, but the scramble for the nomination is so lively he may be called upon to run again in the interests of harmony. It is not thought that in such circumstances he would decline. He has filled the office acceptably to everybody, and he is one of the soundest of sound money men. His running qualities in New York city have always ranked high.

But even with Governor Morton out of the calculation, the Republicans have men in the field for the office the selection of any one of whom would make it an easy matter for sound money Democrats, full of resentment on the silver issue, to go over to his support.

This adds very greatly to Senator Hill's difficulties. Although a sound money man himself, he is standing between the sound money fire and the free silver fire. He, as the recognized Democratic leader in the state, is expected to shape the action of the Buffalo convention. The sound money Democrats are insisting that there must be no backward step taken. The deliverance of June must be the deliverance also of September. But the deliverance of June was for sound money, and the September convention is expected to put Presidential electors in the field. Bryan and Sewall electors on a sound money platform would be absurd.

Tammany and its allies, on the other hand, want a free silver deliverance. Regularity, not consistency, is Tammany's watchword. Tammany's memory goes no further back than Chicago. Tammany heeds Chicago. The rest is mere principle—something about which Tammany seldom concerns itself.

Mr. Hill has as hard a nut to crack as ever dropped from a tree.—[Washington Star.

THE SAN JUAN RIVER.

In Nicaragua the San Juan winds along between banks clothed to the water's edge with feathery palms, tall cacao trees, cedars, bread fruits, ferns, and innumerable other varieties, from the branches of which drop the hanging nests of the crested oriole, or vines with their long tendrils trailing in the stream, and supporting in their turn orchids and other parasites of exquisite color and indescribable forms. Overhead, the monkeys are jabbering at their loudest, the parrots and parroquets keep up an incessant screeching, and the macaws, looking like "floating fragments of a rainbow in the air," are vociferating for all they know. Then you may see the toucans cocking their little heads to watch you as you pass. Now and again a beautiful bird of a rich velvety black one, but with a fiery red patch on its tail, flies past, and humming birds, woodpeckers, and song birds uncounted, keep the air alive and musical from morning till night.

By the banks congregate the cranes, herons, and other water fowl, immersed in philosophic thought, until disturbed and put to flight with a great whir of wings by the sudden apparition of an alligator's open jaws above the surface of the water. Or the wild pigs come down to drink in droves of perhaps fifty or more, and the chances are that one of them—or the tenderest morsels of one of them—will constitute the principal dish at your next meal.

Here and there, at wide intervals, native boats may be seen moored against the banks, betokening the proximity of an Indian settlement, which presently shows on the higher land through a gap among the trees; and groups of stark-naked children come trooping down to the river, at the heels of their fond parents, who bring fruits to barter, or even give away, as a token of good-will. These are a few of the many features of a trip—diversified still more by the shooting of the less dangerous rapids—along the San Juan River between the sea and the great lake which takes its name from the country itself.—[Good Words.

PUBLIC LAWS.

CHAPTER 337.

AN ACT to Facilitate the Identification of Criminals.

(Passed May 13, 1896.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. The Board of State Charities and Corrections may at any time in its discretion cause any prisoner confined under sentence in the state prison or in any county jail to be measured and described in accordance with the system commonly known as the Bertillon method, for the identification of criminals. The said Board shall cause such measurements to be made by a person or persons in the official service of the state, and shall prescribe rules and regulations for keeping accurate records of such measurements at such prison and jails, and in duplicate at their office in Providence, and for classifying and indexing the same.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

CHAPTER 338.

AN ACT in Amendment of Chapter 284 of the Public Laws Entitled "An Act Establishing a Harbor Line In the Public Water In the City of Newport," Passed at the January Session, A. D. 1878.

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. The harbor line in the public water along a part of the westerly side of said city of Newport, from the northwest corner of the railroad wharf, so called, as it now stands, to the south line of the street extending westerly into the harbor is clearly established as follows, to wit: a line running due north from the northwest corner of the railroad wharf, as it now stands, to the southerly line of Elm street, extending into the harbor delineated by a red line marked "due north" on a plan of proposed wharf and extension to Brigg's wharf for the Old Colony Steamboat Company, on file in the office of the secretary of state.

SEC. 2. So much of section 1 of Chapter 284 of the Public Laws passed at the January session, A. D. 1878, as establishes the harbor line for a portion of said harbor, described in a different direction from the line above described, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 339.

AN ACT Providing for the Care and Custody of the Woonsocket Court House.

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. The Woonsocket Court House upon its completion shall be in the custody and under the charge of the sheriff of Providence county, who is authorized and empowered to employ a janitor or engineer at an annual expense not exceeding six hundred dollars, and said sheriff is also further authorized to approve all bills for heating and lighting said court house. And the sum of two hundred dollars in addition to the sum of six hundred dollars is hereby annually appropriated for supplies, repairs, furniture, fixtures, etc., for said court house; and the state auditor is authorized to draw his order upon the general treasurer for the payment of the same upon receipt by him of proper vouchers approved by such sheriff.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect upon the completion and occupancy of said building by the supreme court and district court of the twelfth judicial district.

CHAPTER 340.

AN ACT In Amendment of Chapter 165 of the General Laws.

(Passed May 13, 1896.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7 of Chapter 165 of the General Laws is amended so as to read as follows:

"SEC. 7. Complaints for violation of the provisions of this chapter shall be made by the secretary of said board, and said secretary shall be exempt from giving surety for costs on any complaint made as aforesaid."

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 341.

AN ACT Authorizing the Establishment of a harbor Line In the Town of Jamestown.

(Passed May 14, 1896.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. The town council of the town of Jamestown is hereby authorized to establish a harbor line along the easterly side of said town near the ferry as follows:

Said line shall begin at a point 500 feet easterly from the low water mark at the easterly end of Hamilton avenue, and shall extend thence, in a northwesterly direction to a point 400 feet due east from the end of the present filled portion of the wharf of the Newport and Jamestown Ferry Company, and shall extend thence, in a northeasterly direction to a point in the prolongation of the northerly line of land of S. H. Gurteen, and 500 feet distant from the intersection of the low water mark with said line, according to a plat of said line which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof; and upon the passage of a resolution by said town council, establishing said line, the same shall be the harbor line of said town of Jamestown in front of the shore adjacent thereto.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 342.

AN ACT Concerning Explosives Used In Fire Crackers.

(Passed May 11, 1896.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Every person who shall sell, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, use, or explode, or shall use or explode any fire cracker containing any explosive other than gunpowder, shall be fined not more than twenty dollar.

SEC. 2. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 343.

AN ACT In Amendment of Chapter 11 of the General Laws, "Of Elections by Secret Ballot."

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Hereafter in the city of Central Falls, at the times and in the manner provided by law, there shall be appointed four supervisors of elections for each ward in said city, who shall be republicans and democrats in equal numbers, and who shall be selected from a list of not less than four electors, presented to said board of aldermen by the city committees of the republican and democratic parties respectively, the republican supervisors to be selected from the republican list and the democratic supervisors from the democratic list.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

I certify the foregoing to be true copies.

FINALS FOR THE NEWPORT CUPS.

The Myopia Second Team Defeats the Meadowbrooks Second.

The finals for the Newport cups for second teams was played on the polo grounds yesterday and resulted as was anticipated in a victory for the Myopia team, though the Meadowbrooks played so very much better than was anticipated that they nearly won. There was a large and fashionable gathering within the grounds, and a crowd on Dead Head Hill that taxed the accommodations of that historic place. This gathering included hotel and Jamestown people, who are in the habit of going to the hill, not because it is cheap but because there is no good place within the grounds for ordinary spectators.

The play was marked by some excellent individual work and by a general absence of team play. For the reds, the Meadowbrooks wearing scarlet to distinguish themselves, Vingut, Stevens and Mr. Duval did some great individual work, and all the light blues followed suit. The back work of Norman was again more than good and helped materially to decide the game, as the reds had the blues up to their goal line very often. The play in the last period was especially fast, and nearly as good as that of the first teams. The blues won because of a little better team play, their luck in securing two snap goals at the opening of the second period and the poor shooting of the reds for goal.

The sides and handicaps were as follows:

Myopia 2d—G. von L. Meyer, J. B. H. Holmes, 4; J. P. Eustis, 4; G. H. Norman, Jr., 4; total, 15.

Meadowbrook 2d—C. R. Duval, 1; H. K. Vingut, 3; C. A. Stevens, 3; M. R. Duval, 5; total, 12.

Referee, W. C. Eustis; time keeper, F. L. Winthrop, Jr.

The goals were scored as follows:

FIRST PERIOD.

Goal.	Side.	Made by.	Time.
1	Meadowbrook	Stevens	3:00
2	Myopia	Meyers	2:30
Time expired			11:30

SECOND PERIOD.

3	Myopia	Holmes	:30
4	Myopia	Meyers	1:30
5	Meadowbrook	Vingut	5:30
6	Myopia	Holmes	10:30
7	Myopia	Eustis	1:30
Time expired			2:00

THIRD PERIOD.

8	Myopia	Meyers	17.00
Time expired			4:00

Score—Myopia, 6 goals earned, less safely by Norman, ¼, and foul by Holmes, ½; net, 5½ goals. Meadowbrooks—3 goals by handicap, 2 goals earned, less 2 safeties by M. Duval; net, 4½ goals.

Among those present were Hon. W. C. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Gibbs, Miss Norman, Miss Rusk, Miss Brice, the Misses Gerry, Mrs. T. S. Nowell, Mrs. William Claflin, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Whistler, Miss Eustis, Mr. and Mrs. T. Hitchcock, Jr., the Misses Mills, Mrs. Warren, Miss Trevor, Mrs. G. K. Warren, William Sprague, the Misses Sprague, Rev. and Mrs. Braddin Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Stevens, Mrs. Duncan Elliot, H. W. Berryman, I. Townsend Burden, John H. Holmes, R. L. Agassiz, Mrs. G. von L. Meyer, Max Norman, Max Agassiz, Stanley Mortimer, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Count Sierstorpff, Mrs. Perry Tiffany, Miss Julia D. Grant, Count and Countess Orlowski, Mrs. Prescott Lawrence, General C. A. Whittier, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sorchan, T. M. Garrett, W. K. Thorn, ex-Lieutenant Governor Wardwell and family, Center Hitchcock, Mrs. E. L. Winthrop, Miss Davis, J. D. F. Lanier, Miss Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Whistler, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Keller, Miss Jenkins, Frank Hambleton, Columbus O'Donnell and Dr. and Miss Shearer.

NOTES.

The regular tournament play being over, additional games have been arranged for special cups as follows:

Saturday, August 22, for teams of twenty goals handicap. Meadowbrooks—E. W. Roby, 3; C. C. Baldwin, 6; T. Hitchcock, Jr., 8; W. C. Eustis, 3; total, 20. Knick Knacks—George P. Eustis, 5; B. Smith, 7; J. Smith, 7; Stanley Mortimer, 3; total, 22.

Tuesday the Myopia 2d and Meadowbrook 2d teams play the first match for teams with individual handicaps of not over five goals, and Saturday, August 29, the winners of this match play the Newports.

The coachers of the coaching parade will as usual visit the polo grounds tomorrow after luncheon at the Golf Club.

ENTERTAINING COLONEL DE FREEE.

Colonel A. B. de Freee, who arrived yesterday at the Ocean House, was met by a delegation of the Rhode Island Press Club whose guest he will be all this week. After introductions to Governor Lippitt and Mayor Boyle, addresses were made and responded to by the colonel. He was then driven over all points of interest in Newport and was tendered a banquet at the Ocean House, where covers were set for ten.

Today a reception and clambake were given him at Providence. For tomorrow invitations have been extended to many distinguished people to meet him at the Casino, Narragansett Pier, where he will be dined in the evening by the club. The colonel's compositions are being played by the Ocean House orchestra. His latest waltz and two step are very tuneful and catchy.

THE THIRTY-FOOTERS RACE FOR THE WHITNEY CUP.

The thirty-footers raced yesterday for the cup offered by Mr. Harry P. Whitney, owner of Dorothy II. As only amateur skippers were allowed, the Asahi and Esperanza did not start, but the others had an excellent race under most favorable conditions, and, as had been anticipated, Mr. H. B. Duryea came in ahead and won the cup. Mr. Morgan in the Puck was giving the winner a good race when the boat grounded on Gould Island and was put out. Mr. Brownell sailed Mr. Macdonough's Musme and Mr. W. B. Duncan, Jr., sailed Mr. Whitney's Dorothy. The other boats were sailed as in previous races by their owners, and sailed well. The course was from Brenton's cove to Dyer's island buoy, a run before the wind and a beat home. The run up was made almost in a bunch, the Puck leading the Vaquero III by just two seconds. On the beat home Mr. Duryea forced his boat into first place before the Puck grounded. The summary is as follows:

The summary, start at 2:30, is as follows:

	Turn.	Finish.	Time.
Vaquero III	3:23:57	4:30:03	2:00:06
Wa Wa	3:24:50	4:32:30	2:02:30
Dorothy II	3:24:35	4:53:02	2:22:02
Musme	3:21:00	4:51:12	2:24:12
Rosemary	3:24:20	4:56:11	2:26:11
Hera	3:21:30	4:58:38	2:26:38

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Miss Leary gave a luncheon and dance yesterday, and her guests numbered about fifty. Muenchinger & Sons served and the firm also catered for Mrs. J. P. Green's reception at Jamestown.

Among those entertaining at dinner last night were Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Mrs. Edward S. Willing, Mrs. David King, Mrs. Ogden Mills and Miss Johnson.

Mrs. Atherton Blight gave a musicale yesterday afternoon and Mrs. John Davis entertained at luncheon.

Mrs. George Hoffman will give a dance August 27, and Mrs. Potter Palmer will give one on the evening of August 31.

The dance at the Casino tonight can safely be called a tennis dance, as it is expected that the tennis players will be out in full force.

Mrs. F. W. Vanderbilt gave her customary entertainment at "Rough Point" yesterday afternoon to Whenseever and Nina circles of King's Daughters, and furnished a fine program of amusement.

THE COACHING PARADE.

The annual coaching parade will take place tomorrow afternoon, the start being made as usual from the corner of Bellevue and Narragansett avenues, at 12:15 o'clock. It is expected that there will be eleven coaches in line. In the absence of Colonel Augustus Jay, president of the club, and Mr. Frederic Bronson, the vice president, the parade will be headed by Mr. Prescott Lawrence, chairman of the executive committee, and the other coaches will be driven by Messrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Perry Belmont, J. J. Van Alen, Ogden Mills, Theodore A. Havemeyer, J. D. R. Baldwin, Harold Brown, Eugene Higgins, Nathaniel Thayer and W. Watts Sherman. The line will be down Bellevue avenue and along Ocean avenue to the Golf Club, where luncheon will be served. The coaches will, as usual, return to the polo grounds to allow the guests to see the games.

PORTSMOUTH'S NEW BICYCLE LAW.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Dear Sir: On the 10th inst. the Portsmouth town council saw fit to pass a law prohibiting, under a penalty of from $3 to $10, any person from riding a bicycle on any side path in the town. As our roads are in such a condition that it is impossible to ride in the roadway in many places, would it not be for the best interest of the town to modify the law just passed somewhat as follows: Making it a law strictly forbidding any rider or driver of any vehicle (a bicycle is a vehicle) from obstructing or retarding the progress of any pedestrian in the town. As it must be known to our town council that most of the roads in the town are in such a state that bicycle riding thereon is next to if not impossible. As bicycles are here to stay and the generosity of people riding them are inclined to be gentlemanly and courteous on the road, is it for the best interest of the town to forbid them to enter the town, as the law passed practically means.

ILLUMINATION AT MIDDLETOWN BLUFFS.

The Taunton colony of summer residents residing on Middletown Bluffs, just north of the Middletown station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, held their first annual illumination fete last evening. All of the cottages was prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and flags, bonfires were lighted on the shore and a good display of colored fire and fireworks were set off. One of the most notable features of the illumination was a kite with a blazing tail which was flown quite high in mid-air. The New York boats saluted the illuminators as they passed by down the bay. The water parade and a line of illuminated floats did not take place on account of the rough water and heavy swell. The program of the celebration was concluded by dancing and the singing of popular songs.

Several guests arrived from Taunton to participate in the fete, and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all present.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION DEBT PAID.

The last note representing the debt of the Young Men's Christian Association was met July 15, and the directors are thus relieved of a heavy burden.

The fiscal year began July 1, and the association is now receiving contributions for current expenses. The prevailing financial stringency is felt severely by the association, and unless its friends who have been in the habit of contributing do so promptly there is great danger that it may be unable to meet its obligations thus early in the year.

AT "ROCKHURST."

A Ball in Honor of Miss Josephine Brooks.

Mrs. H. M. Brooks gave a large and fashionable ball at "Rockhurst" last night in honor of her daughter, Miss Josephine Brooks.

Mrs. Brooks's house rejoices in a superb ball room, octagonal in shape, and opening out onto a verandah that surrounds the entire house. The verandah was enclosed last night, and those who did not care to dance had full view of the ball room all the evening.

Miss Brooks, the debutante, assisted her mother in receiving, as did also Mrs. Charles H. Baldwin, an aunt by marriage of Mrs. Brooks. The hostess wore blue silk, and her daughter was prettily gowned in white silk. She was the recipient of several baskets of flowers.

An elaborate supper was served in the dining room, all the guests being seated at small tables. After supper a spirited cotillion was danced Mr. Elisha Dyer, Jr., leading with Miss Brooks. There were some beautiful favors obtained by Mrs. Brooks from Udall & Ballou. These consisted of silver mounted golf scores, silver mounted hat brushes, solid silver pocket knives and picture frames and parchment fans.

Landers, as usual, had charge of the decorations and the Casino orchestra was engaged for the occasion. The supper tables were decorated with American Beauty and Duchess of Albany roses. The floral decorations were by Hodgson and were greatly admired.

The young people were prominent among the guests, but the elder guests appeared to be just as happy, as they were. In fact it was a thoroughly successful and well-managed affair, the hostess being complimented upon all sides for her good taste.

The new ball room was seen for the first time. It is fifty feet long and as many feet square.

CONCERT AT THE OCEAN HOUSE.

A very pleasing concert was given yesterday afternoon in the Ocean House parlors for the benefit of the Country Homes for Convalescent Babies of New York. The participants were Miss Hattie J. Hayes, mezzo soprano; Miss G. Mortensen, soprano; Mr. Ch. Ernest Shober, baritone; Signor Louis Amato, 'cellist; Mr. Carl Sprose, cornetist, and Mr. Arthur W. Mason, pianist. The Ocean House orchestra, conducted by Mr. E. Melville Browne, rendered several selections, and the first selection, Sousa's overture "King Cotton," was conducted by Herr von Blattz, late bandmaster of the regimental band at Berlin.
